Sexual Misconduct

Reporting Obligations for Staff and Faculty

As an employee, you may be the first point of contact for a victim of sexual misconduct. You may also learn of possible sexual misconduct from a source other than the victim. FSU is subject to several reporting laws in this area.

What to Report

In the following situations you must report:

1. If you become aware that a student may be a victim of sexual misconduct.
2. If you become aware that an individual under your supervision may be a victim.
3. All incidents of sexual violence (rape, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking) must be reported to the FSU Police Department.

This includes incidents that you learn of first hand (from the victim), second hand (from anyone else), by witnessing the event, and through other means (media coverage, social networking, or anonymous reports).

Where to Report

- The University Title IX Director, Jennifer Broomfield, (850) 644-6271 or jbroomfield@fsu.edu.
- The Office of Equal Opportunity and Compliance (EOC), (850) 645-6519, if the alleged perpetrator is faculty, staff, visitor, or a contractor; or
- The Dean of Students Department (DOS), (850) 644-2428, if the alleged perpetrator is a student.
- The FSU Police Department, (850) 644-1234 or 911 on campus, if the incident involves sexual violence.*

Failure to report in the circumstances described above can lead to disciplinary action for failure to report. When in doubt, err on the side of reporting any incident of sexually inappropriate conduct.

Who is a “Supervisor”

The term supervisor is construed broadly. It includes, but is not limited to: residence hall coordinators, graduate research assistants, teaching assistants, lab technicians, principal investigators, athletic coaches, academic advisors, and faculty when interacting in a faculty-student interaction. When in doubt—report.

Confidentiality

Often a victim will ask you not to tell anyone about the sexual misconduct they disclose to you. Unless you are a “Confidential Source,” a victim’s request for confidentiality does not absolve you of your reporting duties to the University offices listed above. If possible, inform the victim that you have a reporting obligation before they reveal their concern to you and let them know where they can discuss the situation with complete confidentiality.

If they reveal sexual misconduct to you before you can counsel them about confidentiality, let them know that you have an obligation to report the incident to university administrators, but that the University handles complaints sensitively and discretely. Information is kept on a “need to know” basis. They can request to proceed confidentially and the University will carefully consider their request. Also let them know that they are protected from any form of retaliation for reporting sexual misconduct.

Confidential Sources

At FSU, confidential sources include: Victim Advocates, mental health counselors (such as University Counseling Center and Employee Assistance Program staff members), medical staff at the Health and Wellness Center, and pastoral counselors. These employees are not subject to the sexual misconduct reporting obligations described above.

*Incidents of sexual violence involving students or individuals under your supervision must also be reported to the Office of Equal Opportunity and Compliance/Dean of Students. When reporting to the police, however, do not reveal the identity of the victim if they ask you not to.
