For all J visa holders:

- 1) You may choose to continue your coverage with Florida Blue/Collegiate Risk Management. This insurance covers all J visa requirements and Affordable Care Act requirements, including medical evacuation and repatriation coverage. This coverage may provide more affordable premiums and healthcare costs than Marketplace plans that comply with J visa regulations, depending upon your financial resources.
- 2) You may choose any other insurance plan which meets J visa requirements, as long as you can still be considered a non-resident for tax purposes in the U.S. Those who are considered residents for tax purposes may need to comply with the Affordable Care Act requirements. Unfortunately, FSU cannot advise you on the tax implications of the Affordable Care Act or your U.S. tax residency status.
- 3) You will want to consider compliance with J visa requirements, premiums, benefits provided, and out-of-pocket healthcare expenses when considering any insurance policy. Please be sure to ask any questions regarding these before enrolling in or purchasing an insurance plan.
