Strategies to Find Professional Development Opportunities in the New Year

Are you ready to take your career to the next level? FSU provides flexible classroom and online learning options at no cost to employees, designed for personal and professional growth. Visit the HR Training website for details.

To explore growth opportunities beyond the university, we have curated our top recommendations for discovering additional learning resources!

- Online Learning Platforms

- LinkedIn Learning offers a vast library of courses on various professional skills and is free for FSU employees! To activate your free LinkedIn Learning account visit this website.
- Coursera provides courses from top universities and institutions worldwide.
- Udemy features a wide range of courses on different topics, often at affordable prices.

- Professional Organizations

- Joining industry-specific organizations can provide access to conferences, workshops, and networking events.
- Many associations offer certification programs and continuing education opportunities.

- Networking & Mentorship

- Attend local networking events, join professional groups on social media, and seek out mentorship opportunities to learn from others in your field.

- Self-Directed Learning

- Create a personal learning plan that includes reading books, listening to podcasts, and following thought leaders in your industry.

- FSU's Employee Tuition Scholarship

- Available to all full-time salaried FSU employees in good standing. Enroll in up to 6 credit hours per semester at no cost. To learn more about program eligibility and the application process, please visit the Office of Student Finance website.
